A Character may aim from a stationary Thoroughbred by playing just one Aim Dice. The horse will never wander away and does not need to be secured.

Julie Tavernier

Julie Tavernier is the beautiful 18-year-old daughter of Jacques. While Jacques is alive, she is the perfect, lovely and obedient daughter who helps him run the ranch. Should Jacques be incapacitated, however, she will instantaneously turn into a ruthless, committed and ambitious woman who will let nothing stand between her and wealth.

She too will stay on the Ranch for most of the campaign and will otherwise only participate in any game on that table. In addition, on a result of 5-6 on a d6, she will be in the Los Nachos Bank if the Makinen Gang tries to rob it in daylight.

Henchmen -

Cannot purchase equipment

Begins each game with 0 Bonanza Tokens. Bonanza Dice = Current Action Dice -4

May only Dodge while in cover, successful on 5 or 6.

Each Shock moves one Action Die into Shock Pool. One Wound removes one Action Die permanently. A Critical Hit removes two Action Dice and adds a Pinned Token. For each two Action Dice removed, remove one figure.

May only aim if a friendly Character is within 6" and in line of sight of the Henchman Group in order to direct their fire.

May only play one Shoot Dice for each figure in the group. One dice is rolled for each Shoot Dice a Henchmen Group uses.

Where a Henchman group fires multiple shots at a target, these shots are spread across the target Character and other Characters or Henchmen within 2" of the target unless they are aiming with a Character directing their fire.

If multiple shots are fired, the group is out of ammunition if more 1's than 6's are rolled. If out of ammunition, the Henchmen group will have to allocate two Reload Dice to reload.

May only use 1 Aces High die, unless a character is within LoS and 6".

A character may use Aces High die to recover one Shock or remove a Pinned Token from group.

Adds +1 to the side's Ride or Die Rating if within 6".

Level I, 1 FM Point. Skill Level 6

Reverend Martin Luther Donnerschlag

Despite dressing like a Lutheran clergyman, it is not certain that the aging Donnerschlag is in fact a man of the cloth. He always carries a small but rather heavy, top-opening leather suitcase, which when set down sometimes makes the sound of two or more glass bottles clinking. Unconvincingly, he explains that this is some communion wine he is carrying. In the suitcase is also a revolver wrapped in red satin cloth, which he says was a gift from his parishioners. Where this parish is located is very unclear from his explanations.

He rides a mule, saying that if a donkey was good enough for Jesus, a mule is surely good enough for him. The mule Gallops at 2d6 only and In Control tests are at -1.

Donnerschlag is a redoubtable defender of the downtrodden and thanks to his fiery rhetoric, his side always has an additional d6 in any Ride or Die Test. But if taken to Los Nachos, a very different side of the good Reverend will be revealed. He will instantly slip into the saloon to overindulge in wine, women and song and then appear late and drunk in the firefight (roll on the Serious Wound Recovery Table "I Need a Drink!" to see how plastered he is in a given battle). A separate Deployment Point is placed for him in the saloon. He may only deploy after any character rolls three or four Aces High Dice.

Hank Stroh

Hank Stroh is the town drunk. His services – which are of very questionable quality - are only available in Los Nachos town itself, mainly because Stroh exchanged his mangy horse for a couple of bottles of whiskey many years ago. In addition to a bottle of Doobs Brothers Moonshine, he has an ancient Colt Paterson .36 cap & ball revolver which has only a five-round capacity and which will explode dealing him a Wound on an unmodified to hit roll of 1. Only an impoverished or especially desperate gang would avail itself of Stroh's services.

In Bad Shape - First Move die is only a 1d6 move

Equipment	Eff Rng	Max Rng	Ammo	Notes
.36 Colt Paterson Revolver	9"	18"	5	Lightweight - The first Critical Hit inflicted on a Character or Henchmen Group in an activation counts as a Wound. Slow Reload - Takes two Reload Dice to reload a single round. Ancient – Explodes on an unmodified to hit roll of 1, dealing the wielder a Wound.
Bottle of Moonshine				Once per game, use a Reload Die take a sip of Moonshine to remove one point of Shock.

Rodney Slagg

As far as saddle bums go, Slagg is not remarkable in any way. Drifting from town to town, he is ready to undertake any kind of a job – including highly dangerous ones such as one of these battles.

Shootist -

Purchases equipment from General Store or Gunsmith

Begins each game with 1 Bonanza Token. Bonanza Dice = Current Action Dice -3

Must Dodge into cover which is located away from shooter

Level II, 2 FM Points. Skill Level 5

Stealthy - Shooter requires one additional Spot Dice to spot this Character when they are in Cover or over 12” away.

Weapon	Eff Rng	Max Rng	Ammo	Notes
Colt Navy .36 Revolver	12”	24”	6	Lightweight - The first Critical Hit inflicted on a Character or Henchmen Group in an activation counts as a Wound. Cartridge Reload - This weapon is reloaded by replacing the whole cylinder rather than individual rounds. Three Reload Dice must be played to fully reload this weapon.

Xerxes Bountinis

Xerxes Bountinis is a Greek-born bounty hunter. In appearance he is a gigolo and a dandy, always dressing in a white suit (reduces number of Spot dice required to spot him by one), with many gold chains and an expensive pocket watch. He carries an ivory-headed walking cane (If a round of Brawlin' is won, adds one additional Shock). He has a fine horse with a red saddle and matching bridle.

Though he prefers to hunt people with bounties on their heads, Bountinis can also be hired for more general professional assignments. A true professional, he owns quite a collection of weapons.

Shootist -

Must Dodge into cover which is located away from shooter

Level II, 2 FM Points. Skill Level 5

Lucky - May re-roll any one batch of dice once per game.

Fast Talker - Reduces their opponent's Combat Pool by 1 Dice when Brawlin'. If the Character loses a round of Brawlin' this benefit is lost for the rest of the game. May always add 1D6 when rolling for Revenue in the campaign.

Equipment	Eff Rng	Max Rng	Ammo	Notes
Colt Navy .36 Revolver with Pearl-Handled Grips	12"	24"	6	Lightweight - The first Critical Hit inflicted on a Character or Henchmen Group in an activation counts as a Wound. Cartridge Reload - This weapon is reloaded by replacing the whole cylinder rather than individual rounds. Three Reload Dice must be played to fully reload this weapon. Pearl-handled Grips - Re-roll one hand of shooting dice per game.
Winchester 1873 rifle	24"	48"	15	Rifle - Add +1 to hit when taking an Aimed Shot at a target over 12" away.
Sharps carbine	48"	96"	1	Rifle - Add +1 to hit when taking an Aimed Shot at a target over 12" away. Buffalo Rifle - The first Wound inflicted on a Character or Henchman group in an activation counts as a Critical Wound. Add +1 to the Critical Hit roll. Slow Reload - Takes two Reload Dice to reload a single round.
Ivory-Headed Walking Cane				If a round of Brawlin' is won, adds one additional Shock.
Fancy Duds				Add D3 Reputation Points after each game.

Carlos Hernandez

Carlos Hernandez dresses in the stereotypical bandito garb, with a large Sombrero complete with coins decorating the rim. Although not Ambidextrous, he carries two .44 Colt Army revolvers model 1860, as this enables him to forego reloading in most gunfights.

He also has a set of traditional Mexican peasant clothes. Dressing in those, he may infiltrate any place in Los Nachos, Rusty River Valley, Dusty Hills mine, and any of the farms and ranches, appearing as just a napping workman. After all, this is New Mexico and who is going to take any notice of some Mexican laborer having a siesta?

Gunslinger -

Purchases equipment from General Store or Gunsmith. May purchase Rare items.

Begins each game with 2 Bonanza Tokens. Bonanza Dice = Current Action Dice -2

When activated, may change one of the Action Dice rolled to any other result from 1 to 5

May Dodge into any direction

May play an Aces High Dice to give a Henchman Group within 6" a "Follow Me!" order. This allows the Group to move with that player during the current activation.

Level III, 4 FM Points. Skill Level 4

Siesta - When dressed as a Peon, he receives a Movable Deployment Point. This can only be moved using his own dice, and he is the only one who can deploy from it. However, he is only able to carry one revolver and no rifles under his peasant garb.

Menacing Whisper - In any Confrontation Carlos counts as a Legend because he can always be heard whispering – very loudly and menacingly – to his employer "Jefe, please may I now kill this gringo?" To do this he needs to be within 6" of his faction's leader.

Lightning Fast - Add +1 to the Dodge roll for the first test of each Turn. Add +1 to a Fast Draw Test.

Brave - Will ignore the first Shock inflicted in a game.

Weapon	Eff Rng	Max Rng	Ammo	Notes
Two Colt .44 Army Revolvers	12"	24"	6	(not Ambidextrous)
.44 Henry rifle	24"	48"	15	Rifle - Add +1 to hit when taking an Aimed Shot at a target over 12" away. Lightweight - The first Critical Hit inflicted on a Character or Henchmen Group in an activation counts as a Wound.
Bowie Knife				(no skill)

“Injun-Killer” Pete Cadwell

“Injun-Killer” Pete Cadwell is a greedy, calculating, confident and audacious leader of a band of hired guns, but he will on occasion also engage in solo work, as here. He is of average height and has sand-brown hair. Dressed in jeans, spurred expensive boots which he never takes off, yellow shirt and a black leather vest, Pete is a legendary, unprincipled gunfighter who would shoot even his own grandmother if someone paid him enough.

Legend -

Purchases equipment from General Store or Gunsmith. May purchase Rare items.

Begins each game with 3 Bonanza Tokens. Bonanza Dice = Current Action Dice -1

When activated, may change one of the Action Dice rolled to any other result from 1 to 5

May Dodge into any direction

May play an Aces High Dice to give a Henchman Group within 6” a “Follow Me!” order. This allows the Group to move with that player during the current activation.

Level IV, 6 FM Points. Skill Level 3

Ambidextrous – May use two pistols (not Heavy or Cumbersome) at once. Both pistols may be fired using one Shoot Dice when shooting at the same target. These shots may not be aimed and are made with a -1 on the roll to hit. Just one Dodge roll is made.

Quick Draw - Firer may always change one Action Dice to a Shoot Dice.

Trick Shooter - Reduces the targets Dodge Roll by -1 when shooting at 12” or less.

Equipment	Eff Rng	Max Rng	Ammo	Notes
Two S&W .44s Russian with pearl-handled grips	12”	24”	6	Break Open – Play two Reload Dice to load three rounds the weapon. Pearl-handled Grips - Re-roll one hand of shooting dice per game.
Winchester 1866 rifle	24”	48”	15	Rifle - Add +1 to hit when taking an Aimed Shot at a target over 12” away.
Spy Glass				Reduces the number of Spot Dice required at over 12” by one Spot Dice.
Bowie Knife				(no skill)
Thoroughbred horse				The player rolls one additional D6 when moving and chooses which dice to use for movement distance. A failed In Control Test may always be rerolled once. A Character may aim from a stationary Thoroughbred by playing just one Aim Dice. The horse will never wander away and does not need to be secured.
